President of LOGISTEC Stevedoring to visit newly acquired Port of Albany Terminal

WHAT:

LOGISTEC Stevedoring Inc., a leading North American marine and environmental services provider, recently acquired Fednav/FMT, which had been providing stevedoring services to the Port of Albany since 1996. This transaction brings the Port of Albany (which had been one of FMT's 11 terminals) into LOGISTEC's network of 90 terminals in 60 ports across North America.

LOGISTEC Stevedoring President Rodney Corrigan and Port of Albany CEO Richard Hendrick will discuss this new partnership, the greater awareness and challenges of supply chain logistics, and how Albany is positioned for success due to the robust resources of LOGISTEC in combination with the interconnectedness of rail, road, and river at the Port of Albany.

WHO:

Rodney Corrigan, LOGISTEC Stevedoring president and Richard Hendrick, Port of Albany CEO

WHEN:

Wednesday, April 12; 2:30 pm

WHERE:

Reservations required; please call Penny Vavura at 518-339-6042 or email pvavura@portofalbany.us. Attendees will meet at the Port Administration building (106 Smith Boulevard, Albany 12202), be provided with safety gear (please wear appropriate shoes) and be escorted into the Port of Albany Terminal area.
